ANGLER'S CORNER

By Roger Hare

We have had rather a quiet week of fishing, and while the weather cooperated, the fish for the most part did not.

The bluefish that were all over our coast the week before last have moved to parts unknown. A few blues were off Minot Light and a few could be found off the power station at Manomet but those big schools of bluefish were not around.

Chester Speed, who had caught some blues before, searched for those bluefish from the North River to Duxbury Bay where he caught a big mackerel, but those elusive blues were not there either.

My son Jim came home from Maryland and on Saturday we took several of his friends fishing. We found the blues on the inside of the tuna fleet in towards Provincetown. Some of Jim's friends had never been bluefishing before and had a big surprise when they caught them because of the fight the fish gave. The birds showed us the blues, and in all we caught 10 on swimmers and on poppers. We caught one blue that weighed 16 pounds, but they averaged 12 pounds each.

Singles Start

New Season

The recently organized South Shore U.U. Singles will launch its Fall Forum program at 8 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 7 at the First Parish Unitarian-Universalist Church in Norwell.

Michael Ruben will discuss 'Dealing with Losses.' The Forum will be preceded by coffee at 7:30 p.m. and is open to the public. A $2. donation is requested. After formal discussion there will be wine and cheese.

The group Forum on Sept. 21, also scheduled at Norwell's First Parish Church, will have Ruben deal with 'Parenting: Single and Step.' Future Forum programs will focus on a variety of topics, including Home Maintenance, Energy Conservation, Politics: 1980, cooking and gardening.

Membership, open to all who are single, separated, divorced or widowed, is drawn from Scituate, Cohasset, Norwell, Hingham, Weymouth, Quincy, Braintree, Norwell, Hanson, Pembroke, Duxbury and others. In addition to its bi-monthly Forums, held on the first and third Fridays of each month from September through May, the group sponsors a variety of social activities including bicycling, hiking, sailing, bridge or cribbage parties and group dinners. For information contact Chuck Tenney at 331-4617 or Debby Kingsbury 335-7058, or come to a Forum in Norwell.

I had a bush fishing weekend. My sister, Barbara Grube is visiting us so we went down to Duxbury Bay to fish for flounder. We caught about 25 of those flatties in a little more than an hour. Kathy Stickles caught the most but Jayne Hare Dane caught the biggest ones. I took a lot of ribbing because all I caught was a small one that had to go back. But then, the ANGLER doesn't have to catch fish all the time, all I have to do is write about them. Besides, I hate cleaning flounder. I leave them whole unless they are very large.

Walter Kaminski and his family found some cod off the Gurnet so those fish are back again too. Now is the time to start filling the freezer for those long months when it is too cold to fish.

Those killer whales really ruined the giant bluefin tuna fishing this year. The whales appear to have left our corner of Stellwagen Bank, but there is only a fraction of the number of boats fishing out there and only a few of them are taking tuna. There are a lot of mackerel on the tuna grounds and there are a lot of bluefish that keep popping up near the tuna fleet.

Loring Packard, manager at the Home Savings Bank on Rte. 139 in Pembroke, has been fishing with Artie Maher, chef at the Bridgewater, and while they haven't caught a lot of fish, they were out one day when a 50-foot came up near the boat. It was so close they were startled by the whale's blowing. They saw five whales that day, but the others kept their distance. Whales are always a fascinating sight especially when they surface right next to your boat.

The striped bass fishing slowed right down last week too, but I did hear that one boat caught about 300 pounds of bass on the other side of the Cape at Chatham so just maybe we will have a return of a fall blitz of these fine fish.
